

Building Community Resources: One Map at a Time

January 21-23, 2009 at the Fredonia Hotel
Nacogdoches, Texas

The Columbia Regional Geospatial Service Center, Arthur Temple College of Forestry and Agriculture, SFA and the East Texas GIS & GPS Users Group (ETUG) and South Central Arc GIS Users Group (SCAUG) are pleased to announce the 3rd Annual East Texas Geospatial Conference to be held January 21-23, 2009 in Nacogdoches, Texas at the historic Fredonia Hotel. This conference is designed to bring together GIS professionals, addressing coordinators, 9-1-1 and emergency response specialists, Forestry and Natural Resource professionals for networking, learning and training opportunities.

Costs: $50 includes lunch both days and dinner on Wednesday evening (with a bit of a social thrown in afterwards).

Key Note Speaker:

Robert Joseph, Director USGS Texas Water Science Center

Workshops: Six technical workshops will be held at an additional cost of $15 each. Sessions will include ArcPad I, ArcPad II, Geocoding in ArcGIS 9.3, Weather Mash-ups, Introduction to Plume Modeling, and GISP certification overview.

Vendors: Vendor sponsorship is available at three levels:

Platinum ($500) which provides recognition in the conference flyer, a vendor booth, conference registration for one individual and recognition for support of the social.

Gold sponsorship ($300) which will provide recognition in the conference flyer, a vendor booth and registration for one individual.

Silver sponsorship ($200) which will provide recognition in the conference flyer and one conference registration.

Call for Presentations: Oral presentations will be limited to 15 (fifteen) minutes followed by 3-5 minutes of questions. If needed, a longer timeframe can be given with advanced notice. Please submit an 150 abstract paper or poster via email to: dmcDonald@sfasu.edu. Please note needs for any special equipment.

Conference Topics:
